Comparing annual usage charges...

*Comparison against TEPCO Energy Partner electricity tariff for meter rate lighting B, and against Tokyo Gas general charge, as of October 2021. This is a rough calculation, exclusive of the fuel cost adjustment value, material cost adjustment value, and discounts, and subtracting the renewable energy surcharge. The electricity and gas charges and discount values may not always match, due to rounding. *The discount for direct debit is not included. *The annual discount amount is the difference in monthly charges between "TEPCO meter rate lighting B" plus "Tokyo Gas general charge" and "Tokyu Denki & Gas meter rate lighting B" plus "Tokyu Denki & Gas general plan", multiplied by 12 (for the equivalent of 1 year). It may differ from the actual discount amount. *The graph is an illustration.

Electricity Charge Calculation Method

(Fuel cost adjustment value) *1 = Fuel cost adjustment unit price × Electricity usage in 1 month

*1 The calculation methods for the fuel cost adjustment value and the renewable energy surcharge are the same as employed by TEPCO Energy Partner.

Gas Charge Calculation Method

$$\text{Basic Charge} + \text{Usage Charge} \times \text{Gas usage in 1 month}$$

<Unit charge (adjusted unit charge **)>
 Basic unit charge ± Adjusted unit charge after material cost adjustment

*4 The adjusted unit charge is adjusted to appropriately reflect price variations in the raw materials of gas (LNG and LPG) in gas charges. Therefore, it is a unit charge calculated by adding or subtracting the adjusted unit price due to material cost adjustment to or from the basic unit charge.
 *5 Compared to the unit price of the Tokyo Gas general charge (exclusive of discount systems) in October 2021. *6 Monthly gas charges are calculated by adding the basic charge determined by amount of gas usage to the usage charge calculated from the amount of gas usage. *7 The usage charge is calculated by adding or subtracting the material cost adjustment value according to variation in raw material prices. *8 The amount of consumption tax is: gas charge x 10/110 (rounded down to the nearest Yen).

Fee Calculation Table *5

Current Gas Charge	¥20,000	¥15,000	¥10,000	¥5,000	¥3,000
Amount saved from the Tokyo Gas general charge	▲¥370	▲¥280	▲¥192	▲¥102	▲¥73

*5 Comparison against the Tokyo Gas general charge, as of October 2021. The fuel cost material cost adjustment value and exclusive of discounts are not included. The gas charge and discount amount may not always match, due to rounding.

FAQ

Q. Can I make an electricity service application for my household?

Anyone living in the TEPCO area can apply. It does not matter whether you live in a condominium or rented home, in a detached house or multiple-dwelling complex, etc. However, the following people cannot apply:

- Those who have an optional contract with TEPCO Energy Partner (Denka Jozu, Otokuna Night 8, 10, Peak Shift Plan, Omatome Plan).
- We may be unable to accept applications from some who have contracts with time period-specific options.
- Those living in multiple-dwelling complexes which receive collective high-voltage power reception. *Collective high-voltage power reception is a service which allows multiple-dwelling complexes to cut electricity charges by bulk purchasing electricity. Collective high-voltage power reception is not available for customers who are currently paying their electricity bills to TEPCO Energy Partner. Check the details with your building owner or management company.
- People who live on isolated islands

Q. Can I make a gas service application for my household?

Anyone living in the Tokyo Gas supply area can apply. It does not matter whether you live in a condominium or rented home, in a detached house or multiple-dwelling complex, etc. Some areas are not covered. Those using propane gas cannot apply.
